Heart and Continuity.

ALESTE is the natural continuity of Luciano's first wine, the Barolo Cannubi Boschis. Giving all the experience, know-how, patience and heart of his numerous grape harvests, Luciano pays tribute, with boldness and sensibility, to the next family generation. ALESTE is in fact the combination of the names of his grandchildren ALEssia and STEfano.

SANDRONE

ALESTE

BAROLO

ALESTE BAROLO

Experience grows and is brought to fulfilment

Its complex and expressive aromas open with every swirl of the glass, giving off perfumes of oriental spices, oak, black fruits. Floral tones of roses, violets and hibiscus dominate the nose, supplemented by aromas of cigar box and cedar, tobacco, black licorice and ground white pepper.

On the palate, the sense of volume is palpable, dominated by dark cherries and black raspberries. This wine tickles the senses. There is a humming, vibrating intensity to the wine, best evidenced in the thrillingly fresh acidity and powerful tannins.

ALESTE is a remarkably long-lived Barolo. This wine is integral, complete and with always good balance. Its distinctiveness makes this wine always hard to resist.

- 100 % Nebbiolo
- Spontaneous fermentation from indigenous yeasts
- Maceration and alcoholic fermentation in open steel tanks
- Malolactic fermentation and ageing in French oak barrels of 500 liters
- Bottle aged for 18 months before release
- From the first vintage of 1985: Cannubi Boschis – from 2013 and beyond: ALESTE
- Vineyard in the village of Barolo: Cannubi Boschis

sandroneluciano.com

SANDRONE

Experience, Reasoning and Heart.

"Everything I have lived for and experienced has brought me here today"

Deep is the knowledge of the territory in which my family and I have lived in, and deep is the respect we hold for it, as well as the pride in being a part of it. From the very beginning I had always wanted to show the uniqueness and distinctiveness of the Cannubi hill by way of a separate vinification. This first vineyard situated at 250mt above sea level and perfectly sun orientated benefits of an ideal exposure. Thanks to the optimal soil and weather conditions, prevailing harvest after harvest, a wine was brought forth that has drawn international attention since its first release in the mid-1980s.

Cannubi Boschis is our flagship wine, a Barolo recognized the world over, for which we have always nourished with immense respect. Nothing will ever change that. This is why I dedicate this special wine to my grandchildren Alessia and Stefano.

From the vintage 2013, it will carry their names: ALESTE.

Luciano Sandrone

50+ harvests, 40 years of wine making,
3 varietals: Nebbiolo, Barbera and Dolcetto.
2 territories together as Langhe and Roero tell the story of our 6 red wines, which are expressions of our intuitions, careful observations and continuous thinking.

We have always been driven by a single overriding and thriving ambition: to discover new nuances in each harvest. Expressing them in our wines is what we want and love doing! Each grape gathering has its own harmony, and each wine is a story in itself.

sandroneluciano.com